原文:

A Trip to the Tundra

Do you like to go on trips? We could go on a trip to the tundra. You should contrast it to your home.

We must hop on a jet. Pack a very good map. Bring thick socks!

The tundra is very flat and white. If you like frost and snow, you will like the tundra.

The tundra attracts a lot of animals. We will see how they can make a good home in the tundra.

We see hundreds of animals there. Look at this pale fox. See how its pale fur helps it hide?

An arctic hare runs past us. There are hundreds of them on the tundra. We see it for an instant as it skids over the hard snow.

We see this huge animal. It has a thick blanket of fur and a rack of big antlers.

People come to the tundra now to see the polar bear. You must not come in contact with this bear!

If you could inspect a polar bear, you could find thick fat under its skin. This thick fat helps the polar bear be warm.

Now we have to go home. What was the very best part of the trip? Are you glad you went?
